ABSTRACT:	Written for deacons of all denominations and has implications for the whole church as it raises issues that touch on the nature of the church itself, its ministry and use of the scriptures, past and present. It is essential reading for those with responsibilities for deacons, those who develop or deliver programmes for deacons, or those considering becoming a deacon.
print	Deacons in the Episcopal Church: guidelines on their selection, training and ministry.	Plater, Ormonde, editor	1991	Deacons. Diaconate -- Episcopal Church (U.S.) NAAD -- Episcopal Church, Anglican Church of Canada.	1	M b1458
ABSTRACT:	Guidelines on the selection, training and ministry of deacons in the Episcopal Church were published in 1983; this revision is based on the changes to the Title III canons by the General Convention in 1988, treating the ordination of deacons in a separate canon, based on the principle that the diaconate is a full and complete order in and of itself, and on the experiences of many dioceses with deacons.

print	Deacons in the Liturgy	Plater, Ormonde	1992	Deacons -- Anglican Church. Deacons -- Anglican Communion. Anglican Church -- Liturgy. Ministry -- Diaconate.	3	M	b1424
ABSTRACT: A detailed practical reference book of sacraments performed by deacons with seasonal, pastoral, and Episcopal liturgies and forms of services used by deacons in the Episcopal Church and Anglican Church of Canada; to help deacons serve in the liturgy with grace and sensitivity to the needs of the presider and people, and to help communities use their deacons in ways appropriate to the dignity and meaning of the order, and to express baptismal ministry in the life and worship of the church.
print	Discerning God's will together: a spiritual practice for the Church.	Morris, Danny E. and Charles M. Olsen	1997	Discernment of spirits. Church group work. God -- Will. Congregational development.	1	M	b1653 ABSTRACT: The authors explore the possibilities of using spiritual discernment in the decision-making process for individuals, small groups, religious deliberative bodies of all sizes. Comparing the systems imposed by various layers of our historical culture (instead of Robert's Rules of Order, why not "God, is this your will?") and using examples of everyday tasks as metaphors and Biblical allegory, they give practical understanding of this challenge and illustrate the difference an interactive approach can make to the experience and outcome of church work.
print	Doing Church as a team: the miracle of teamwork and how it transforms churches.	Cordeiro, Wayne	2004	Church work. Spiritual gifts. Stewardship. Congregational Development. Church leadership, teamwork.	1	M	b1643
ABSTRACT: From experience in his own thriving congregation, Wayne Cordeira gives practical insight and theological basis to building teams, coming from every member having a purpose and a gift, spiritual and practical. He reminds us to remember who we are in God's plan and that there is no limit to what God can do through a church that does its ministry as a team; with helpful and inspiring concepts and methods of developing servant-leaders, building teams, and transitioning a church culture.

ABSTRACT:	Drawing on his own and other pastors' work as community leaders, Granade shows that clergy possess invaluable resources for working with people and are trained to look at God's bigger view. He shares not only the challenges but also the evangelical imperative of living, serving, and leading intentionally in the church and the world and encourages clergy to reclaim their unique leadership role and to share with their communities a message of hope.
print	Let your life speak: listening for the voice of vocation.	Palmer, Parker J.	2000	Vocation -- Christianity. Discernment - self. Spiritual life -- Anglican authors. Meditations.	3	M	B1647
ABSTRACT:	The title is a time-honoured Quaker admonition taken to mean "let the highest truths and values guide everything you do." Palmer interprets these words as listening for what your life intends to do with you before you tell your life what you intend to do with it. Sharing his own journey to discovering self and vocation on a Christian path. With wisdom, compassion and humour, he gives powerful insight into the process of accepting one's true self and allowing the spiritual life within to decide what truths and values one embodies.
